HTML Review

Hi Madi! It looks so much better and I love the big text over the picture on the front page!! :)
Here are some areas of improvement:

1. Spacing
   a. The spacing around the picture on the homepage for example is not consistent, and when the browser window is smaller the text gets super close to it
   b. Inconsistent spacing for where the text starts on each page, maybe match to the one on the home page since the others feel like they could use a little more room
   c. Maybe more space on the bottom of each page so that when you scroll down it doesn't feel like it ends so suddenly
2. Margins/paragraph width
   a. For Grades and Health effects in particular, the paragraph taking up the full width of the page feels like a little too much/hard to read so just make the width smaller if you don't want to put more pictures
   b. Maybe add a picture for Teaware
3. Sources page
   a. It seems a little awkward to have a page just for a link so consider including it in a footer in small text? Not really a big deal though
